COLLEGE GRADUATES.

They Heard the Final Sermon Before Receiving Their Diplomas.

DELIVERED BY REV. McROBERTS.

Was Among the Ablest Baccalaureate Discourses Ever Delivered in Benton Harbor.

The 25 members of the graduating class of the Benton Harbor college heard the final discourse, before receiving their diplomas, at the Methodist church last night. It was delivered by Rev. Thomas R. McRoberts, pastor of the Congregational church in St. Joseph and was one of the ablest baccalaureate sermons ever delivered in Benton Harbor.

A crowd that packed the auditorium and galleries of the church was in attendance. Pews in the front of the center row of seats were reserved for the graduates and a few minutes before the hour for the service to commence the graduates filed into the auditorium from an outer room and occupied the vacant pews. There were 25 of them, their names and the department from which they graduated being given below:

Academics—Ida Belle Randall, Anna Isabel Baley, Harriet Estelle Gano, Myrtle Jennie Crane, Jeanette Gano, Charles J. Ewald, Michael A. Yore, Ward H. Marsh, Hugh D. Beauchamp, John W. Clippinger.

Commercial—Kathryn Mulcahy, Frances Aspell, Helen R. Ogden, Margaret Ferry, Lena B. Schultz, Fremont Evans, James W. Gould, Claude M. Nash, James W. Chambers, Clyde Smith, Rose M. Hadlow.

Kindergarten—Mrs. Mary Caldwell, Mrs. Jennie Whitehead, Viola M. Conrad.

Art—Mrs. George K. Wainright.

Preceding the sermon Mrs. Howard Hurlbut sang a beautiful soprano solo. The sermon was calculated to convey the impression that the scope of men's possibilities was unlimited, that his inheritance was the world and all things were his as he developed a right to possess them. The ideas of the preacher were couched in beautiful language, eloquent and forceful.

THE SERMON.

The Text Was "All Things Are Yours."

In speaking to the graduating class last evening Rev. Thomas R. McRoberts took for his theme "Your Heritage," developing his sermon from the words of Paul "All things are yours." The speaker said the sturdy apostle repudiated the idea that Christianity narrowed a man's vision, or kept his activities inside of a small circle, or that it impoverished anyone's life. His conception of Christianity was that it should make him the most universal of all men. He believed that nothing under the dome of God's blue was foreign to a Christian's sympathies; that there was no truth, from whatever source the truth might come; that there was no fact of life, no person under the dome of God's blue that may not throb with interest to the Christian as conceived by Paul.

He believed Christianity gives to man the largest possible horizon. When men were devoting their energies to one phase of the truth, and called themselves followers of Apollo, another class of men were walking in the light of another particle of truth and chose to call themselves followers of Peter. Paul's lip curled with scorn, he pitied their devotion to a partial truth, and affirmed that they were making light of their heritage because all was theirs, both the truths that Apollo and Peter or anyone else preached.

Mr. McRoberts said that 19 centuries and more were packed into the numeral all; that the best of all ages that have gone before are the heritage of young people now living; that men who live have all ages and other worlds to attend them. The chambers of the most precious thoughts and acts, and examples are open to us now.

Plato is ours and Christ is ours, and Shakespeare and Whittier, all ours, and in a truer sense than were they to the men who lived when they did, since Time has opened to us the truer meaning of their words and revealed the clearer light of their thoughts.

It is right to claim the best that can be gleaned from every source, and to claim every truth, as all truths are rays of one life, one energy which after all is saying that they are all parts of God.

All are ours, Burns has taught us how to look at a daisy, Browning what to see in a toad's eye, Miller has told us what there is in a sandstone, Burrows teaches us how to look over a New England field, George Elliot how to read the workings of a human heart,

Thoreau how to hear night spread her wings over the daylight of a Maine forest.

Every mind has taught us. The world is yours and what you possess to day is 24 hours of a life that is enriched by countless master minds. The air is freighted with the possessions of great minds. That is your inheritance. It's not egotism, or a piece to boast for

Paul to say that life is yours, for men have proved it, that by indomitable energy they have had the making of their lives. Man is not to be a slave, but a king; he cannot set aside natural laws, but he can reign in harmony with the laws of nature which are God's law. But, above all, life, life in its joy,

THE EVENING NEWS.

SECOND YEAR—NO. 502.

BENTON HARBOR, MICH., MONDAY, MAY 17, 1897.

ONE CENT.

A WEEK FROM TODAY.

The Grand Rapids Newsboys Band Will Appear in Benton Harbor.

IT WILL BE A GRAND TREAT.

The Band Starts Out on a Tour of Some of the Large Cities.

The Grand Rapids Newsboys' band, which will arrive in Benton Harbor next Monday has not a duplicate in the world. Wherever the band has appeared it has received a monster reception not only from the public but from the great musical artists of the country, men like John Philip Sousa and T. P. Brooke.

The band will be met at the station by the newsboys of the city and will be escorted to Hotel Benton, where they will take dinner. The boys will be dressed in bright uniforms and will play as they march along the streets. The band is on its way to Louisville, Ky., and will play at the larger intermediate cities on the way.

The concert will be held at Conkey's hall and will commence at 2 o'clock and two hours of enjoyment of the highest class will be furnished.

The admission which will be $1 in Louisville will be only 25 cents in Benton Harbor and children will be admitted for 15 cents.

PAID OUT THE CASH.

Contractors on the Electric Road Paid Off.

The two firms of contractors, Forrester & Westcott and Mr. Beecham received their first month's pay for grading on the Benton Harbor electric road last Saturday.

When the work of grading began and the newly organized company took hold President Hamilton and Treasurer Davies declared that as soon as pay day came the money for the men would be ready.

Pay day came Saturday and the money was on hand and paid out.

The tunnel road is a success in spite of the official organ.

FAIRPLAIN WANTS IT.

Has Made a Proposition to the New Telephone Company.

The people of Fair Plain have made overtures to the manager of the Home telephone company to run the new line to that closely settled fruit district.

Saturday a Fair Plain delegation called upon the projectors of the new line and asked that a proposition be made the neighborhood and the assurance was given out that the people of the "corners" were willing to do anything reasonable.

The new telephone company will meet at St. Joseph this evening for the purpose of organizing.

THE BIG RAILWAY BRIDGE.

Four of the Six Big Piers are in Position.

The St. Joseph Valley railway bridge across the St. Joseph river is rapidly assuming the proportions of a completed structure. Four immense piers are in position and two others are fast rising skyward.

The structure will rest on six gigantic supports which are anchored at the bottom with clusters of piles. The piles are driven into the river's bed and then encased with huge, hollow iron cylinders, filled to the top with crushed stone.

The iron beams and braces for the superstructure are on the ground and considerable of the superstructure will be placed in position this week. A temporary wooden frame work has been built half way across the river, the farther end resting on the two center piers. It is laid with rails and will be used in conveying the heavy steel beams to the location they will occupy.

Hundred of spectators visited the scene of the work yesterday. A ferry is in operation conveying passengers across the river. Every day the place is visited by hundreds of people who take interest in watching the work of construction. It is a popular resort for bicyclists. The road to the bridge from this city is in good condition and makes a charming ride.

HELD TO THE CIRCUIT COURT.

Theodore Hinds Will Remain in Jail Until His Trial.

Theodore N. Hinds, of Coloma, accused of committing a criminal assault upon his 11-year old daughter, had his examination Saturday afternoon before Justice Graves and was held to the circuit court for trial. He was not given an opportunity to furnish bail, Prosecutor Valentine holding that his crime was one that would not permit of a justice of the peace admitting the defendant to bail.

Hinds was taken to jail to await his hearing in the circuit court. Only one witness was sworn at the examination, and she was the victim of the accused. Her testimony was taken by a stenographer and will be preserved for reference when the case is heard in the circuit court. It contains a shocking array of damaging facts and if true brands Hinds as one of the most inhuman brutes in the record of criminal annals in the county.

ANOTHER VIEW OF IT.

Charles W. Hall Offered His $2,200 Property for $100.

There is another side to the Hall-Weber case which has not come to light, and which tends to show that the $2,200 worth of real estate deeded to Charles W. Hall by Daniel Weber as security for a loan of $50 does not greatly enrich Mr. Hall. That gentleman testified when the case was on trial in the circuit court the other day that he would deed his interest in the $2,200 property for $100, which goes to show that Mr. Hall is not disposed to believe that he drove a very sharp bargain. He makes this proposition after having expended $144 in improving the property.

Charles Jackson, the former owner of the property, testified that it was not worth to $1,000 and when Hall got possession of it there was a mortgage of $900 against it. This puts a different phase on the transaction. Mr. Hall says that Weber never made a bonafide offer to pay the loan of $50.

THE CHIN AS AN INDEX.

Can You Tell a Person's Character by the Shape of His Lower Jaw?

I have read Dr. Lou's letter on "Physiognomy" in The Medical Council and am prompted to say, in reply to his request for contributions on the "chin":

Protruding chins characterize men and women of the get there type. Successful people usually carry their chins thrust forward, with compressed lips. This chin, if heavy, with broad ram and swelling masseters, indicates fighting blood.

A retreating chin shows lack of force, mentally, morally and physically; usually of the yielding sort; soon discouraged; desires protection; small executive force. The development of other faculties often makes up for this defect.

A small, well rounded chin, with mobile and red cushion of flesh upon, indicates a pleasure loving owner. If dimpled, all the more so, for dimpled chins belong to coquettes. People with dimples love to be petted and loved; like admiration and praise. Generally fickle. Usually this chin is healthy, cooperative and long lived.

Broad chins signify nobleness and large dignity, unless vertically thin, when, if with it there be thin lips of bloodless kind, you find cruelty.

Square chins with little flesh denote firmness and executive ability. These make good haters.

Drunkards usually have a circular line about their chins.

Slovens have wrinkles about their chins.

Long, thin chins are poetical, unstable and delicate in constitution. Such people are subject to bowel derangements. If thin through the angles of the mouth, too, they are prone to tuberculosis. Generally short lived.

Medium chins with a suggestive bifurcation in the center, with small mounds of flesh on either side, characterize generosity, impulsiveness, cheery natures. (The same sized chins, with a dab of flesh just under the center of the lower lip, indicate meanness, selfishness, brutality.)

N. B.—No one feature can be taken in judging character. Often development of other faculties of mind or feature entirely governs. In each case take the "totality of indications" before judging.—St. Louis Clinique.

We have given John Schairer the agency in Benton Harbor for our Barley Malt Whiskey. Distilled from malted barley it is rich and nutritious, and free from all impurity. For the sick and feeble it is a true tonic.

THE LITTLE OLD SHOE.

It is only a tiny shoe
That she touches with tender care,
A cunning little bit of a thing
That a baby used to wear.
And she gently raises it to her lips
And lovingly holds it there.

It is worn and faded and old,
But it brings up the happy past.
She sadly sighs as she thinks of the joys
That were too sweet to last.

In fancy she sees a little child
As it gambols upon the floor.
An elflike creature with golden hair
Is cooling a baby song once more,
And a tear drops down on the tiny shoe.
That the beautiful dream child wore.

"Ah, well," she sighs to herself,
"Tis, alas, the will of the fates!
I used to be able to wear this shoe,
But now I take number eights."

ANIMALS AND MUSIC.

A Strange Experiment Made in a Zoological Garden.

A violinist was playing various airs before the cages of the animals. The bow, which had been passing backward and forward half drowsily, took up a gait that would have distanced one of the deer in the pen by the buffaloes' yard. Then there was a transformation scene in the home of the lioness as rapid and as complete as that of the tune. The cubs went into ecstasies. They rolled about, jumped, fell over one another, raced over their mother's recumbent body, and danced unrestrained on her head. They ceased their tantrums only with the ceasing of the music.

Then they gathered at the front bars of the cage again and silently and pathetically pleaded for more. Their plea was successful, and in response to the delicate flattery conveyed by their manner the player gave the lullaby once more. They simply sat and listened to it as silently as they had at the first. The transition to the jig music was once more made speedily. The first note of the lively air had barely left the violin before its riotous contagion had once more caught the cubs. They rolled and rolled about and stopped only when the professor, fearing to tire their little limbs, took his bow from his fiddle and told them they had danced enough for debilitants.

The hyena is an uncanny brute. His very appearance goes a great way toward bearing out charges of graveyard robbery brought against him. He has no music in his soul nor room for any. Sweet sounds are to him so antipodal to everything in his nature that they inspire him with nothing but fear, and the more abject fear at that. When Professor Baker tried to interest the two skulking hyenas in his performance on the violin, they began trembling visibly at the first note's utterance, and then as the music swelled they sought the farthest side of their prison and tried their best to squeeze their ungainly bodies through the bars to escape the melody.

THE WEATHER.

Fair and warmer.

THE only offense Edgar Nichols committed toward the Benton Harbor public in accepting the postmastership was that his refusal to take the job might have resulted in keeping the smiling face of "Jake" Simon here during the winter. Cleveland had decided on the sacrifice of Mr. Jarvis anyway.

THE legislature is proposing to tax bicycles not to exceed $1 and that the money be expended in building bicycle paths. The objectionable part of the bill is that it creates three county officers whose duty it is to expend the money. The street commissioners and highway commissioners could do the work and the money would go into paths instead of salaries.

THE people are pleased to learn that the reversal of the Shriver-Bean case by the supreme court is a "vindication" for the Palladium's free pass bolstering of Colonel Bean, the accidental shooter. It is nearly a repetition of the vindication in the old story where one man declared another was a liar and the accused demanded a vindication. His accuser thereupon proved that the man really was a liar and the liar proved said he had been vindicated.

THE EVENING NEWS is accused by the official organ of being an organ for the gold democrats. THE NEWS advocates gold democracy only in the one particular that the republicans ought to have kept their pledges in regard to the postoffice. In comparison with the work the gold democrats did the unexpired postoffice term was merely a mess of pottage. THE NEWS objected when the republicans got into the trough and ate the pottage that they had bartered away.

THE Grand Rapids Democrat is waging war against the present salaries paid to the officials of that city. The same salary will buy one-third more of any property than it would three or four years ago and the wages in private business enterprises have been reduced. It would please THE NEWS to see the federal officials paid on a sliding scale regulated by the average prices of the products of the country and of wages. Such a system would do much toward insuring the country against hard times.

NEWS OF THE STATE.

Senator Burrows recommends as the new pension examining board for Eaton county, Mich., Drs. G. B. Allen, of Charlotte, J. B. Bradley, Eaton Rapids, and W. E. Wilson, Grand Ledge. Allen and Bradley were members of the previous republican board. The headquarters of the board will remain at Charlotte.

A Saginaw street railway company has filed mortgages against all its property to avoid the city's order to pave between its tracks.

William H. Jewett, a well known lawyer and insurance man of Detroit was married on his death bed to Miss Florence Mae Donough. They had been engaged for some time and when the lawyer was stricken with pneumonia he desired that the ceremony be performed though at the time of the ceremony there was no thought of death.

THE "MARBLE HEART."

Time of a Republican Ward Caucus Recalled.

The Palladium says that the editor of THE EVENING NEWS got the "marble heart" at a republican convention last summer. This is a new discovery. Immediately after the convention the Palladium roared vociferously because the editor of this paper after being "honored" as a delegate criticised some features of the convention which were deserving of condemnation. At that time it was charged that it was THE NEWS who gave the convention the "marble heart." At about the same time, speaking of "marble heart," does the editor of the Palladium remember how hard he tried to get on his ward delegation and how he was voted down by an overwhelming majority? Does he remember how he tried to worm himself in to fill a vacancy on the delegation from the fourth ward and how the delegates thrust him out? When the Palladium man gets to Vienna he will be a great man but his greatness dims as he gets nearer home, for the people know him here.

Judge Coolidge This Morning Announced Such His Intentions.

MANY MATTERS TO LOOK INTO.

The Jury Will Sit During the October Term of the Circuit Court.

During the progress of this morning's session of the circuit court Judge Coolidge announced that he intended to call a grand jury next October which will sit during the October term of the circuit court.

The announcement was received with considerable surprise by the attorneys in attendance. There is no particular case, so far as known, that the judge is particular in having investigated, but numerous matters which cannot be unraveled any other way than by a grand jury exist and it is evidently the purpose of the court to have these probed.

There are numerous violations of the law that go unpunished because of the refusal of the right persons to make complaints, and such cases will be turned over to the grand jury. People who would not appear as the complaining witness in certain cases are not unwilling to appear before a grand jury when summoned and testify against the accused.

The last grand jury called in Berrien sat during Judge O'Hara's term of office at which time a big grist of indictments were brought in against saloonists who had violated the liquor law. It is probable that the October grand jury will find "true bills" against a few of that class of business men.

Other Court Matters.

In the case of Ola Brant vs Rodney Pearl the plaintiff was required to file a bond of $50 for security for the costs on or before August 17.

Joseph Hatfield, accused of burglary, was arraigned and pleaded guilty. He was charged with entering the residence of a Spinks Corners citizen. A motion to quash the information in Hatfield's case was denied.

Jacob Boone, a Berrien Springs druggist, charged with violating the liquor law, was discharged on account of an affidavit by the complaining witness that he had sworn to an untruth in the complaint made by him against the accused.

Frank Needham and Lewis McGinnis, accused of maintaining a gaming room in Benton Harbor, were arraigned. They pleaded not guilty. Lawyer James O'Hara will defend them.

A motion was made to set aside the judgment in the case of James A. Fritz against Maria J. Penwell.

The last of the prosecutions against the St. Joseph liquor dealers by the law and order league was abandoned this morning when the case of the people against William Frick was nolle prossed. The complaint in this case was made by Rev. Bready, ex-pastor of the Methodist church in St. Joseph, and Mr. Bready until recently has insisted upon the case going to trial.

In the case of Hector McIntyre against Emery Ames the judgment of the lower court was affirmed and writ of certiorari dismissed.

Ten days further time were granted to file a bill of exceptions in the case of Chaddock against Tabor, providing that within the ten days allowed the defendant sued out a writ of error.

Charles Miller was arraigned this afternoon and pleaded not guilty. He is charged with violating the liquor law. Decrees of divorce were ordered in the case of Hugh McComber vs Lulu McComber and Edith J. Defield vs John B. Defield.

The following assignment of cases was made: May 24—3, 4, 1, 16; June 25—10, 17, 19; May 26—21, 22, 23; May 27—24, 28, 26; May 28—32, 45, 46; June 1—25, 27, 57.

B. Y. P. U. Convention.

For the Baptist Young People's Union of America to its annual convention "The Big Four Route" will name rate of one fare for round trip from all the way through—the first 20 years of life damaging the following 50 years.

Some years ago a scientific lecturer went through the country exhibiting on great canvas different parts of the human body when healthy, and the same parts when diseased. And what the world wants now is some eloquent scientist to go through the country, showing to our young people on blazing canvas the drunkard's liver, the idler's liver, the libertine's liver, the gambler's liver. Perhaps the spectacle might stop some young man before he comes to the catastrophe and the dart strike through his liver.

A Few Epitaphs.

My hearer, this is the first sermon you have heard on the gospel of health, and it may be the last you will ever hear on that subject, and I charge you, in the name of God and Christ and usefulness and eternal destiny, take better care of your health. When some of you die, if your friends put on your tombstone a truthful epitaph, it will read, "Here lies the victim of late suppers;" or it will be, "Behold what lobster salad at midnight will do for a man;" or it will be, "Ten cigars a day closed my earthly existence;" or it will be, "Thought I could do at 70 what I did at 20, and I am here;" or it will be, "Here is the consequence of sitting a half day with wet feet;" or it will be, "This is where I have stacked my harvest of wild oats;" or instead of words the stonecutter will chisel for an epitaph on the tombstone two figures—namely, a dart and a liver.

There is a kind of sickness that is beautiful when it comes from overwork for God, or one's country, or one's own family. I have seen wounds that were glorious. I have seen an empty sleeve that was more beautiful than the most muscular forearm. I have seen a green shade over the eye, shot out in battle, that was more beautiful than any two eyes that had passed without injury. I have seen an old missionary worn out with the malaria of African jungles, who looked to me more radiant than a rubleund gymnast. I have seen a mother after six weeks' watching over a family of children down with scarlet fever, with a glory around her pale and wan face that surpassed the angelic. It all depends on how you got your sickness and in what battle your wounds.

If we must get sick and worn out, let it be in God's service and in the effort to make the world good. Not in the service of sin. No, no! One of the most pathetic scenes that I ever witness, and I often see it, is that of men or women converted in the fifties or sixties or seventies wanting to be useful, but they so served the world and satan in the earlier part of their life that they have no physical energy left for the service of God. They sacrificed nerves, muscles, lungs, heart and liver on the wrong altar. They fought on the wrong side, and now, when their sword is all hacked up and their ammunition all gone, they enlist for Emmanuel. When the high mettled cavalry horse, which that man spurred into many a cavalry charge with champing bit and flaming eye and neck clothed with thunder, is worn out and spavined and ringboned and springhalt, he rides up to the great Captain of our salvation on the white horse and offers his services. When such persons might have been through the good habits of a lifetime crashing their battleax through the helmeted iniquities, they are spending their days and nights in discussing the best way of curing their indigestion, and quieting their jangling nerves, and rousing their laggard appetite, and trying to extract the dart from their outraged liver. Better converted late than never! Oh, yes, for they will get to heaven. But they will go afoot when they might have wheeled up the steep hills of the sky in Elijah's chariot. There is an old hymn that we used to sing in the country meeting house when I was a boy, and I remember how the old folks' voices trembled with emotion while they sang it. I have forgotten all but two lines, but those lines are the true lines of a hymn.

Another practical use of this subject is for the young. The theory is abroad that they must first sow their wild oats and afterward Michigan wheat. Let me break the delusion. Wild oats are generally sown in the liver, and they can never be pulled up. They so preoccupy that organ that there is no room for the implantation of a righteous crop. You see aged men about us at 80, erect, agile, splendid, grand old men. How much wild oats did they sow between 18 years and 80? None, absolutely none. God does not very often honor with old age those who have in early life sacrificed swine on the altar of the bodily temple. Remember, O young man, that while in after life and after years of dissipation you may perhaps have your heart changed, religion does not change the liver. Trembling and staggering along those streets today are men, all bent, and decayed, and prematurely old for the reason that they are paying for lives that put upon their physical estate before they were 80. By early dissipation they put on their body a first mortgage, and a second mortgage, and a third mortgage to the devil, and these mortgages are not paid off, for they are not paid off.

Rev. Dr. Joseph F. Jones of New York, a translated spirit now, in his book entitled "Man, Moral and Immoral," in which he shows how different things may appear to different people. He says: "After the great battle of the Minch in 1859 between the Austrians and the Sardinians on the one side, and the French and the defeated army represented by the victors. A description of the losses of each army is given by the London Times, the French 10,000 men, and the Sardinians 8,000 men."

WOULD AGAIN RULE IN THESSALY,

For One Thing, and Ask 10,000,000 Turkish Pounds in Money for the Next—Characteristic Modern Reason for the Cession of the Province—Powers Certain Not to Consent, and an Issue Raised That Contains Gravity by the Ton.

Constantinople, May 17.—The porte has replied officially to the note of the powers, and declines to agree to an armistice until the following conditions are accepted: The annexation of Thessaly, an indemnity of £10,000,000 Turkish and the abolition of the capitulations. The porte proposes that the plenipotentiaries of the powers should meet at Pharsalos to discuss the terms of peace, and declares that if these conditions are declined the Turkish army will continue to advance. The demand for the annexation of Thessaly is based upon the fact that the province was originally ceded to Greece on the advice of the powers with the object of ending brigandage and Greek incursions into Ottoman territory, the porte believing at the time that the cession would attain these objects, but the recent incursions of Greek bands and the events immediately preceding the war have proved to the contrary. This is the substance of the reply.

Raises Very Grave Issue.

The ambassadors met yesterday to consider the porte's answer, which is regarded as raising an extremely grave issue. It is believed that representations will be made to the sultan personally to induce a modification of these terms, but it is foreseen that this will be very difficult, owing to the attitude of the powerful "Old Turk" war party. If the porte should prove obdurate a European conference is not improbable, although at present Russia is opposed to this. It is regarded as quite certain that the powers will not consent to a retrocession of Thessaly. Even Germany is believed to be resolute on this point, because it would involve a violation of the Berlin treaty and imperil peace of the Balkans. Altogether a reply of the porte has caused the greatest surprise.

Claim the Best of the Fighting. Dispatches have been received the commandant at Janina, who that a division of the Greek forces attacking the town by a narrow e from the direction of Gremeniza, gaged the heights of Greiboro and onaria, but suffered heavily, losing killed, while on the other side the were driven back upon Parasa. vi. The commandant states also that fighting has occurred at Kumuzades. No further details are given, except that all these battles lasted until evening, and that the imperial troops retained their position. The Turkish commander at Luros telegraphs under Saturday's date as follows: "The outcome of a desperate battle lasting two days against a force of 15,000 Greeks is that the latter have abandoned the position on the heights they had previously captured and have withdrawn to the olive groves of Gremeniza."

TERMS CALLED "PREPOSTEROUS."

Not Believed To Be Only Preliminary to Oriental Bargaining.

London, May 17.—The preposterous terms proposed by the porte must be regarded as the natural and usual method of Oriental bargaining. They would not be serious did they not force a continuance of the fighting. With the failure of the Greeks dash into Epirus there is no chance to make a further stand unless at Thermopylae, which, by virtue of its natural conditions, is an immensely strong position from which the Turks would have the greatest difficulty in dislodging the Greeks. At Domokos the Greek troops must be suffering severely from the heavy rains, as they have no tents.

The capture or evacuation of the town is only a question of a few days. The Turks have been seen at the passes east and west of Domokos, and General Smolenski has warned the crown prince to expect an attack. The weakness of the Greek position is in the great extent of the line. The news of the retreat in Epirus serves to still further demoralize the troops in Thessaly. As to the terms on which peace will finally be declared, the general belief in official circles is that they will be settled by European conferences.

The Times correspondent at Athens says: "Today [Sunday] M. Ralli, the premier, visited the various legations and obtained assurances that the powers would undertake to prevent any offensive action on the part of the Turks, providing the Greek forces maintained a strictly defensive attitude. On this understanding he immediately wired to the commanders of the three Greek divisions at Domokos, Souprai and Arta, instructing them to abstain from all hostile action unless attacked by the enemy. The only Greek force now on Turkish territory is the band of Epirote volunteers led by Botzaris, which landed at Preveza and advanced along the banks of the Louros. This force will now proceed westward along the coast, where it will be taken off by the Greek fleet.

The losses at Griboro were the heaviest since the beginning of the war. Seven officers were killed. I fear that the advance was due to Colonel Manos, who desired to regain the Greek army's lost prestige. The government considered his plan a very hazardous one, but finally consented. The fierceness of the fighting at Griboro requiring reinforcements, he was compelled to abandon the original plan, and probably all have now returned to Arta."

PROMINENT MEN ON THE STAND.

Senator Chandler Sends a Letter Advocating the Most Radical Action by the United States—He Would Have Armed Intervention—Allen and Butler Assert That Uncle Sam Has Only to Speak and Spain Will "Climb Down" Quickly.

Washington, May 17.—An enthusiastic audience of men and women, many of them well-known in Washington, packed the Columbia theater to its doors yesterday afternoon at a mass-meeting held in behalf of the cause of the Cuban insurgents. Seated on the platform and participating in the exercises were Senators Gallinger and Allen; ex-Senator Butler, of South Carolina; Rev. Hugh Johnson, pastor of the Metropolitan Methodist church; Rev. Howard Wilbur Ennis and a number of others identified with the interests of the insurgents. General William Henry Browne, president of the Cuban League, called the meeting to order and introduced Gallinger as the presiding officer. The latter made a brief address and read a number of letters and telegrams of regret, among them being the following from Senator Chandler:

Chandler Is for Radical Measures.

"As I wish to see the United States declare and maintain the independence of the island as France did that of the American colonies and made the United States a nation, of course I shall as a practical friend vote for every minor method tending to the same beneficial end. I hope and believe that congress and the president will soon formally recognize a state of war and Cuban belligerency. This step, followed as it will be by all the other independent nations of the western hemisphere, cannot fail to ensure the Cuban independence which is sought for. Moreover, without delay we ought to send a fleet to enter the harbor, and an army to land upon the soil of Cuba, first to protect the lives and property of American citizens, and secondly to stop the atrocious and uncivilized methods of warfare adopted by the Spanish generals.

The Senator Draws a Parallel.

"In advocating all these measures I am conscious of no passionate hostility to Spain. In 1861 she recognized the southern Confederacy within less than three months after its military struggle began; and surely if she cannot hold Cuba without making it one vast desert and graveyard by driving the inhabitants into the cities to starve, and by hanging, shooting or garrotting Cuban officers and soldiers for rebellion and incendiarism, she ought to lose the island. If between 1861 and 1865 one Confederate general had thus been put to death all the powers of Europe, with one accord, would have sent their fleets and armies 3,000 miles across the ocean to end such barbarous warfare and to establish and maintain the Southern Confederacy. Yet General Robert E. Lee and all his generals were as truly guilty of rebellion and incendiarism as was Theodore Menendez Gonzales, who was shot for that offense at Cabañas fortress in Havana on Monday last."

Only Our Traditional Policy.

"In helping to make Cuba independent we are observing a traditional and universal American policy—the duty to promote at the first good opportunity the severance of Cuba from Spain. In 1895, also, the Democrats pledged themselves to do this by their declaration of sympathy for the people of Cuba in their heroic struggle for liberty and independence; and the Republicans by their promise that the United States should endeavor to restore peace and give independence to the island." The senator closes with the assurance that President McKinley will soon act in accordance with the above stated views.

VIEWS OF A CORRESPONDENT.

Belligerent Recognition Would Win the Cuban Fight—Senator Allen Talks.

Karl Decker, of Washington, who as correspondent of the New York Journal spent some time in Cuba, much of it with a branch of the Cuban army in Santa Clara province, gave a description of the condition of affairs existing and of the pitiable plight of many of the people suffering for the necessities of life. He ridiculed the claims set out by General Weyler that the island had been pacified and said that if the Cubans were granted belligerent rights by the United States they would certainly win.

In the course of some remarks, Senator Allen, of Nebraska, said that in this whole matter he thought there had been too much sacrifice to a spirit of commercialism, and it was time this government had a little more humanity and a little more Americanism. He declared that the United States could not afford to have a decaying monarchy with foothold on this continent, and he would be delighted to see Spain and the Ottoman empire wiped from the map of Europe. If the president were to send a fleet to Havana war in the island would cease in thirty days and it would not be necessary to fire a gun.

Mrs. Clara Belle Brown, of the Woman's National Cuban League, said the league had but one platform, one aim and one end, and that end was the establishment of the republic of Cuba. Remarks were also made by Rev. Dr. Kent, Mrs. Lincoln (vice director of the Woman's League) and Rev. Howard Wilbur Ennis. Ex-Senator Butler, of South Carolina, read a series of resolutions which had been prepared, and these were unanimously adopted. They earnestly protest against the "barbarous and inhuman methods of Spain in conducting the war in Cuba," declare that this government should recognize the insurgents as belligerents, and that Cuba had demonstrated that it was her manifest destiny that like Mexico she should be free and independent without the payment to Spain of any indemnity.

Hines, the 11-year-old child of Theodore N. Hines, her mother is alleged to have committed assault, and is being held for trial in the circuit court, was compelled to accompany her father to the last fall, tramping most of the time.

It was a terrible journey according to the child's story. They slept in box cars and some of the time their only shelter was the blue dome of heaven. They begged their food and the hardships of the trip left a lasting effect upon the little girl.

The abuse of the unnatural parent of which Bessie has lately complained have been repeated and the child says that she was prevented from exposing him by reason of her fear that he would punish her.

She had told her mother but she is not living with her husband. Her mother told her to tell her story to some other person and then Bessie unfolded her secret to Mrs. Wallace with whom she and her father lived.

Catch Fish With Wheels.

A curious plan for catching fish is used on the Columbia river. A number of wheels are set up in the middle of the stream, which, as they turn round, catch up the fish and cast them into troughs by the river banks. The salmon are then tinned and sent all over the world. As much as five tons' weight of fish a day has thus been taken.—Kansas City Star.

GOING OVER COUNTRY Crowds

A FEW WORDS TO THOSE WHO ARE UNDERTAKING

You have perhaps traded with one clothier for many years, and have just begun to realize that while everything else has become cheaper, he is still paying WAR PRICES for you clothes. The thoughtful man will ask himself why? We respectfully ask you the same question. You have been reading our advertisements for a long time, with the result that you are now asking yourself: Can the White House Store really save me 25 per cent on a suit.

OUR ANSWER Yes, our immense trade has been built up by people who have bought one suit to test it and having been convinced have become regular customers. All we ask is that you give us a trial and we shall feel assured of future patronage.

A man's elegant business suit for $3.50

A man's all wool pants for 90c

A boy's school suit for 10c

A man's all wool black Clay suit, $7.00

A man's mackintosh for $2.00 condition of every organ depends. Good blood means strong nerves, good diges-
